GAME NOTES

The Lee volleyball team opened the 2021 spring season with a split on Saturday afternoon. The Lady Flames defeated Shorter University, 3-0 before falling by the same score to Union later in the day.

Sophomore outside hitter Abby Stroh led Lee with 21 kills while freshman Allie Whittinghill posted 20 slams on a team-leading .410 attack percentage. Whittinghill would also add seven blocks to help on the defensive end.

Prior to the match with Union the Lady Flames recognized their lone senior Rachel Junen in a special ceremony. Junen had five kills and seven blocks on the day. The Huntsville, Ala. native will graduate in May with a degree in Biological Sciences.

"I thought we played in the opening match against Shorter which is really the one we needed since that was within our group," said Lee head coach Andrea Hudson. "I liked how we started the Union match but I thought they made some adjustments that we just weren't able to answer. With the injury to Calina (Croy, starting setter) we had to throw Emma (Flowers) in there but I thought she stepped up in a tough situation and played well for us.

The Bryan College Lions come in having already played 17 matches this season (15-2). The Lions, members of the NAIA, played a fall schedule and will also play six matches in March before competing in the Appalachian Athletic Conference Tournament starting March 24.

Lee holds a commanding 25-9 lead in the all-time series with the Lions. The two clubs have not met since 2015 and the Lady Flames are 2-1 in the last three meetings.

The Lady Flames will jump back into GSC Pool Play this weekend as they travel to Rome, Ga. to play West Georgia on Friday at 4 p.m. and Auburn Montgomery on Saturday at 11 a.m.
